Student Survey

Assess and track students' knowledge and attitudes about older adults

This survey was developed to assess students’ knowledge and attitudes about older adults as well as their confidence in working with older adults and their interest in geriatric nursing as a career. The survey can be used in a variety of ways such as determining if a clinical experience exposing students to older adults has an effect on knowledge, attitudes, confidence and career intent. It can also be used to evaluate the effectiveness of courses and clinical experiences with a geriatric nursing focus. You are welcome to use this survey with your students. The MN Hartford Center of Geriatric Nursing Excellence would welcome your feedback about the survey and how you used it.
